Thanks to Tina and Rusty for your comments. In my haste to get this out to the group last night, I forgot to add you as editors of the document. You should have just received an additional email and should now have access.

Tina and Rusty – I will add your comments and edits to the SharePoint version. Bob – I will swing by today to discuss your comments.

Thanks all!

Hi Kacee,
Access to this Sharepoint site was also denied for me. I think we need to create a group and be invited to join the site before we can work on the document. For now, I added my edits to Rusty's version, just to keep it in one place.

Thanks,
Tina

Kaycee

I have some comments to give to you tomorrow if we have a chance to talk.

Kacee and All,

I regularly use SharePoint in my group, but it is denying me access to the document you posted saying that I don't have permission. In lieu of that, I've attached my suggestions in the Word document you sent.

Best,

Rusty

Hi All –

Here's my first attempt at a draft matrix of chemical assessment products and related data needs/review/etc. The table is not complete, and I'm hoping you can help me fill out the missing information. Also, feel free to edit the text I've included in the table.

I've also developed a related figure (page 2 of the attachment) – we can discuss whether or not this is useful to accompany the table.

If you're comfortable using SharePoint, here is a link for the document online. It would be nice to get as many edits as possible through this online version so we can all see what is being added.

Deliberative Process / Ex. 5

If you're not comfortable using SharePoint or are unable to access it, make your edits in track changes in the Word document and send your edits to the whole group.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Monday, July 11. Please complete your edits online or in Word track changes by noon on Friday, July 10. I'll compile everything and send out a revised version by COB Friday.

FYI – I've also attached the photo of the white board from today's meeting.

Thanks!
